

6 Courses

Understanding and Strengthening Health Systems

Public Health in Humanitarian Crises 1

Health for All Through Primary Health Care

Diagnosing Health Behaviors for Global Health Programs

Community Change in Public Health

Training and Learning Programs for Volunteer Community Health Workers

07/24/2020

Hans Diether Ferrer Tolabing

has successfully completed the online, non-credit Specialization

Foundations of Global Health

In this specialization, learners developed knowledge and skills essential for work in today's global health workforce, including the social and behavioral foundations of public health, the central role of primary health care and community health workers, the health impacts of humanitarian crises, and the tools for staying safe and healthy while living and working abroad.

Mija Ververs
Senior Associate
Health Systems

Gilbert Burnham, MD
Professor
International Health

William Brieger, DrPH,
MPH
Professor of International Health
Bloomberg School of Public Health
Johns Hopkins University

Henry Perry, MD, PhD, MPH
Dept. of International Health
Bloomberg School of Public Health
Johns Hopkins University

The online specialization named in this certificate may draw on material from courses taught on-campus, but the included courses are not equivalent to on-campus courses. Participation in this online specialization does not constitute enrollment at this university. This certificate does not confer a University grade, course credit or degree, and it does not verify the identity of the learner.

Verify this certificate at:
coursera.org/verify/specialization/5EUFX5GSMQGD