TAN HOE KEAT

has successfully completed the online, non-credit Specialization

Navigating Generative AI for Leaders

Upon completing this program, you have developed the skills necessary to become an AI-ready and AI-powered leader. You now possess a deep understanding of GenAI, its capabilities, limitations, and the profound implications it has for organizations. You have engaged hands-on with GenAI as a thought partner, working alongside a powerful AI model to draft an AI strategy. You have studied how to implement and communicate your AI strategy to drive change. Additionally, you are aware of the ethical, data, and legal risks, enabling you to move forward quickly and safely. Equipped with this knowledge, you are prepared to guide your organization through the burgeoning wave of GenAI-driven innovation. We hope that you will return to stay up-to-date with the fast-paced transformation.
